THE UNSCIENTIFIC SCIENTIST--SCOTTY ON THE DESERT.

San Diego Exposition, July 29, 1914.

Special to The Review.
Dear Herb: Have you heard about our Indians (note the our)? We've got a bunch of them in the Painted Desert that the Santa Fe is building on the Isthmus. Not the regular Isthmus, you know, but the "Isthmus" at the San Diego Exposition. It's the amusement street--lots more fun than the regular Isthmus.

Well, I went out to see poor Lo on the Painted Desert the other day and was formally introduced to the chief, Napehneeduta (Red-Man-Who-Flees-Not), and to some of his braves. I struggled to entertain him with airy persiflage but he just gazed at me stolidly and didn't seem to appreciate my efforts. I thought maybe he was human enough to be interested in his own affairs so I asked him how many squaws he had--it seems to me that they have polygamous tendencies--but he just looked at me disgustedly and grunted, "No sabe. No speak English."

Feeling that my intellectual sweetness was being wasted on the desert heir, I turned to the guide and very frankly expressed my views on Indians in general. I showed him a copy of a local paper containing a write-up about these particular ones. He glanced at it and then handed it to Mr. Red-Man-Who-Flees-Not.

Five minutes later I glanced at Mr. Red-Man-Who-Flees-Not and he was still earnestly scrutinizing the paper.

"I thought you couldn't understand English," I remarked. His reply was somewhat disconcerting, "I can't. But I can read it."

Casually I sidled toward the exit, while the guide explained that Mr. Red-Man-Who-Flees-Not is a graduate of Harvard. We walked around the pueblo and later came upon one of the braves whom I had met. He was sitting in the shade of an adobe hut industriously reading that same paper. I noticed that it was up-side down.

"For the love of Mike! Look at that overgrown child pretending to read that paper," I exclaimed to the guide: "What are you reading about that's so interesting, Mr. Rain-in-the-Face?"

The gentleman in question looked at me sadly and remarked: "I read here, Mr. Scotty, where every man he tend to his own dam business."

The dence of associating with Indians is that "you never can tell till you've tried 'em. And then you're likely to be wrong!"

This fellow who bosses the Indians says they are going to perform their ceremonial rites and dances--whatever that is. Maybe the next batch of red men will include some bearcat dancers, but these look to me more like sitters. There are many other interesting features about the Desert, but I guess they'll keep till my next letter. Yours for the noble white man, SCOTTY.

P. S. Cut out the our in the first paragraph. They're only loaned to us, I've since discovered.

Just Between Ourselves and The Lamppost

This is a little heart to heart talk. It's meant for the business men of this territory, for those who advertise and for those who ought to.

Friend, you must make your customers buy from you MENTALLY before they purchase in ACTUALITY.

You must arouse and interest the mind before you can reach the pocketbook. Thought precedes action.

Make the FAMILY CIRCLE a SHOPPING CENTER. First go after the money spent mentally by the fireside. Get your selling story ready for the psychologist buying moment. Make it as effective as you know how. Give it a PUNCH. Make every feature a VITAL FACT. List the DETAILS. The people want to know all you have to say. Tell the WHOLE story. Hammer your persuasion home. The results then lie between your competitor and yourself.

Remember, this newspaper takes you into the homes of the BUYING class of people. You can tell your story where it will do the most good. Tell it the WINNING way. We'll help you put ZING into your copy if you want us to.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT THE STATE SANATORIUM FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

The afternoon Sunday school at the State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis has grown to be quite an important and pleasant feature of the weekly routine. The lesson is taught by Rev. W. B. Waff, of Conway, N. C. Dr. Waff is a Baptist minister, a patient in the institution, who after the teaching of the lesson, delivers a short sermon. There is an average of from forty-five to fifty in attendance. Up to this time no one except patients and the medical and nursing staff have attended.

All the patients are much interested and seem to get a great deal of pleasure out of the service. The singing, which has recently been added, is a very enjoyable feature, which the bed patients, who are unable to attend the service, get the benefit of and enjoy greatly. A Methodist minister is expected to conduct the next service.

While the Sunday afternoon service has been held for a considerable length of time, a regular Sunday school was organized in due form only last Sunday. Dr. P. P. McCain, assistant superintendent of the institution, was made superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. W. F. Jordan, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Bertha Bowden, librarian.

LABORATORY SWAMPED.

More Orders for Anti-Typhoid Vaccine Than Can Be Filled.

The State Laboratory of Hygiene is up to its neck with orders for anti-typhoid vaccine. Everybody seems to want to be immunized against typhoid. The laboratory people haven't time just now to even count up the number of treatments sent out, but they estimate that it averages about 9,000 doses a week, or enough to immunize about 3,000 people every week. Within another week they hope to catch up with their orders, and after that they will be able to fill all requests the same day or the day after they are received.

The vaccine is sent out free of charge. The only condition being that people who want to be immunized have their family physician or health officer order the vaccine. The laboratory will not send the vaccine to a layman, because it has to be injected under the skin and the layman has no means of administering it.

While requests for vaccine pour in from every part of the State, there appears to be record breaking demands for it in counties having whole time health officers. These men are using it in hundred lots. Here is a part of a letter sent the State Board of Health from Dr. Washburn, health officer of Nash county:

"My anti-typhoid campaign is about to get the best of me. People are coming in from all sides, and the work has been heavy. The biggest day I have had was last week at Spring Hope--337 were vaccinated and probably 250 more turned away because the vaccine gave out. I never had a hookworm campaign in which so much interest was shown."

Administering the vaccine is practically painless. It does not hurt nearly so much as being stuck with a needle or pin. No open or running sore results as in the case of smallpox vaccine. A slight swelling usually occurs, and some soreness and tenderness, but these begin to subside after 12 or 15 hours and disappear in from 36 to 48 hours. Moderate headache occurs in about one person out of twenty, and in rare instances, one per cent or less, this symptom is quite severe. No serious results have ever occurred either in this State or in the hundreds of thousands of cases in the army or navy. Three applications about a week or ten days apart are necessary to produce immunity.

As to efficiency, it may be said that in the army where statistics are available anti-typhoid vaccination has reduced the typhoid case rate to less than one per cent of what it was prior to vaccination, and the typhoid death rate was entirely abolished last year. The length of immunity conferred by the vaccine is not known, but it is thought to be at least four years. At least it is well worth one's trouble to be vaccinated when we recall that 1,200 North Carolinians died of typhoid last year and about 15,000 were sick for several weeks with heavy loss from doctors' bills and other expenses.

TO HONOLULU.
A letter from Lt. Ely Denson requests the Review to change the address of the paper from Fort McKenzie, Wyoming, to Honolulu, H. I., care 25th Infantry, Schofield Barracks. He adds that "I am sailing for Honolulu in August to be stationed there for four years." We extend best wishes.

The editor went out to the new city reservoir Sunday morning and took a look over it. The large basin is thoroughly tarred and cemented and will hold the large body of water under all circumstances. Grass has been sown on the top and all around the sides, so as to protect the banks from cave-ins and wash-outs, and also to beautify same. The water that will empty into this large basin will be filtered and used for drinking purposes just as the water is now used from the pumping station basin. There will be practically a continual stream running into and out of the basin all the time and it is large enough to hold at one time plenty water for all ordinary fighting purposes and at the same time for drinking purposes. The city owns four acres where the reservoir is located. It is expected to have everything in operation by Sept 1st, next. It is a valuable asset to the city.

Quite a wind storm passed over the city and surrounding territory Sunday afternoon but very little rain and no damage is reported so far. The dry weather has played havoc with the crops in many localities and the farmers are getting real uneasy.

Improvements on the interior as well as the exterior of the Cannon-Fetzer Co., store will be made.

It is learned that more furniture was sold at the exposition just closed than before, that a Thomasville manufacturer sold the most and that a High Point manufacturer came next.

The North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends convenes at Guilford College August 6th. The same general interest will be manifested as heretofore. Large crowds will attend big Sunday, August 9th.

Rev. C. P. Coble of the First Baptist church, is in Caswell county, taking his vacation.
